INTRODUCTION

The present catalogue of the family Tettigometridae forms one part of a fascicle of the General Catalogue of the Hemiptera of the world. The plan is to issue the catalogue of each family of the Fulgoroidea, as recently defined by Muir, as a separate part of the general fascicle of the Fulgoroidea and then to issue a special part containing the bibliography and the index for the whole. It is believed that this scheme will facilitate reference in view of the fact that there are so many genera and species involved. The families to be treated in Fascicle IV are listed at the end of this Introduction.

CHARACTERS OF THE FAMILY

The Family Tettigometridae is a small family of medium or medium small fulgoroids, containing 12 genera and 70 species. It is the most isolated of all the families of the Fulgoroidea. The members of this family resemble jassids or cercopids. This resemblance is superficial, however, as most of the characters are distinctly fulgoroid. The antennae are two jointed with the second segment with complex sense organs. The arista has a distinct basal segment. The ocelli are on the face in front of and between the eyes, not on the cheeks. The lorae are distinctly developed. Tegulae are well developed. The wing venation is suggestive of the Issidae and in macropterous individuals the hind wings are well developed with the anal area greatly developed. The fore wings are coriaceous with the venation greatly reduced and the claval veins united before the apex. The legs are simple and the hind tibiae are armed at the apex with a single row of robust spines.

CLASSIFICATION ADOPTED

The classification adopted in this catalogue is the one proposed by Baker (1924b) since this is the latest classification available. As pointed out by Muir (1930c) this classification has its limitations and a thorough revision of the subfamilies, tribes, and genera by a competent European student is badly needed.

Baker's classification recognizes three subfamilies and 12 genera as tabulated below:

- Family TETTIGOMETRIDAE
- Subfamily Tettigometrinae
- Genus Mitricephalus Signoret
- Tettigometra* Latreille¹
- Brachycephalus* Signoret
- Eurychila* Signoret

¹ The name of this genus was originally spelled Tetigometra but Latreille shortly changed this to Tettigometra and this spelling has been followed by all recent authors.

Subfamily Egropinae

Genus Hilda Kirkaldy
Egropa Melichar
Mesegropa Baker
Nototettigometra Muir

Subfamily Megaloplastinxinae

Genus Megaloplastinx Schmidt
Euphyonarthex Schmidt
Tembandumba Distant
Raatzbrockmannia Schmidt

For the synonymy of the species and varieties I have followed chiefly Oshanin (1907a) and Baker (1924a).

HISTORICAL RÉSUMÉ

Panzer in 1799 described the two common European species Fulgora obliqua and Fulgora virescens. Very little was added to our knowledge of this group until Signoret in 1866 and Fieber in 1865 and 1876 reviewed the European species and varieties. In 1907 Distant reviewed the South African species, and Oshanin catalogued the species and varieties from the Palearctic Region. In 1915 Baker discussed certain Philippine species and in 1924 gave a review of the family with keys to the subfamilies and genera. In 1923 and again in 1930 Muir called attention to the morphological characters which give this family an isolated position among the fulgoroids.

GEOGRAPHICAL DISTRIBUTION

The 70 species of this family recognized at the present time are chiefly European, 29 species recorded from Europe only, 9 species from the Palearctic Region chiefly European, 10 species from the Palearctic Region outside of Europe, eleven species from the Ethiopian Region, 10 species from the Oriental Region and 1 from Peru.

FORM OF THE PRESENT CATALOGUE

This catalogue follows the general form of the present series. The family is divided into subfamilies and tribes and the genera are arranged under the tribes in as near a phylogenetic order as our present knowledge will permit. The species are arranged under the genera in an alphabetic sequence. All references have been checked against the original save those marked with an *, which have been accepted from reliable sources. Every effort has been made to have the references full and complete and to give an indication of the character of the data contained. Every species has also been listed under every known combination so that it is possible to find any species without recourse to the index which will be published at the completion of the fascicle, together with the full bibliography.
